The LAN's GOAL

Goals for U.S. Health Care

The LAN Strategy

The Health Care Payment Learning & Action Network (LAN) will achieve its goals by convening the nation's leading public and private APM experts and experienced practitioners to:

Call for Participation

What is the PAC?

- The PAC is a LAN-supported action collaborative aimed at accelerating the adoption and sustainability of APMs.

Why Join?

- Collaborate with payers in CPC+ regions and other select regions in a way that supports work you are doing to implement primary care APMs.
- Hear from payers in other regions, who bring new perspectives and experiences on similar challenges to your own.
- Be a leader in the movement toward accelerated, aligned adoption of APMs across the nation.
- Be in a position to provide key feedback to the LAN on the CPC+, creating a bi-directional learning opportunity.

Who Should Join?

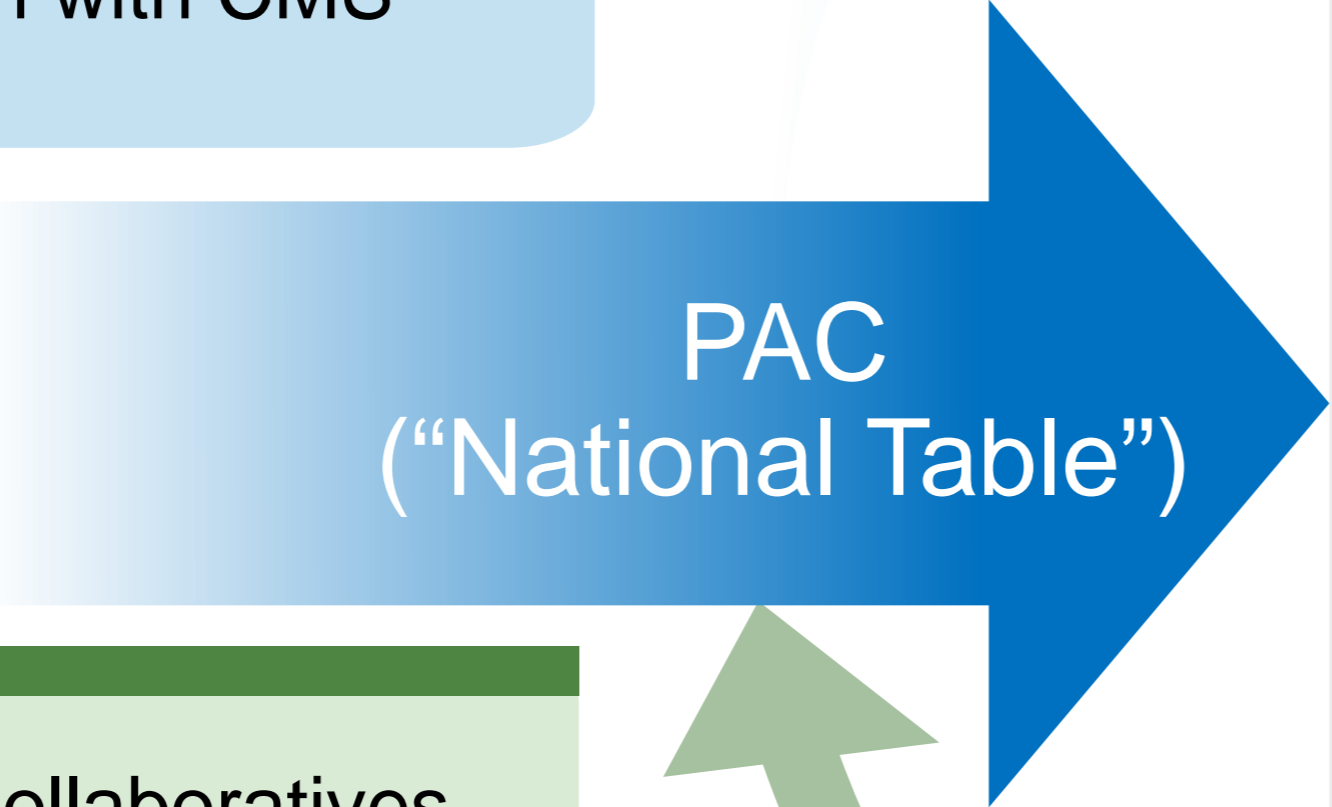

- The PAC will include representatives from payer organizations participating in multi-payer primary care APM efforts, such as, and including, CPC+.
- Participation in the PAC is voluntary; the LAN's goal is to make your organization's time spent on the PAC valuable and effective.

The PAC's Role in the Broad Primary Care APM Landscape

- The PAC is supported and guided by the LAN, via the Guiding Committee and PAC chair.
- PAC participants will be invited to shape the agenda for how to best achieve primary care APM payer milestones.
- Two important tenants of the PAC:
 - Meaningful multi-stakeholder engagement.
 - Strong coordination with CMS CPC+ team

 CPC+ Regional Collaboratives are convened as a group by Milbank Memorial Fund

Shared Milestones

- Commitment to implement APM Category 3 and/or 4 payments
- Seeking solutions to challenges related to implementation
 - ✓ Aggregating multi-payer data
 - ✓ Aligning quality measures
 - ✓ Total cost of care issues
 - ✓ Evaluation Issues

The Primary Care Payer Action Collaborative is independently convened by The MITRE Corporation and does not make policy recommendations directly to CMS or any other government entity.

PAC Activities

The LAN will:

- Provide Expert, neutral, and seasoned facilitation to convene a national payer platform.
- Identify common challenges to primary care APM implementation across regions in key technical domains that require payer collaboration

Creating an environment that allows for learning about strategy, solutions, and promising practices from fellow payers in other CPC+ regions, as well as from stakeholders outside of the PAC.

Forging connections between payers and subject matter experts in the myriad issues related to CPC+ and primary care APM adoption.

Providing practical tools for amplifying the discussions that take place among payers in the PAC activities.

Tracking regional & national payer collaboration toward shared multi-payer primary care APM milestones, such as those set by the CPC+ initiative, identifying opportunities for learning and improving, and taking action to leverage these opportunities as appropriate.

The LAN's Aim:

Accelerate the adoption of primary care APMs, and deliver the support clinical practices need to succeed using those models.
